ALEXANDRIA, VA.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1873.

Secretary Belknap has sent a communication to the House of Representatives directly accusing General O. O. Howard of fraud and malfeasance in office as the head of the Freedman's Bureau. It presents a strong indictment. The Baltimore American says: "General Howard had under him as the agents of the Bureau in the Southern States some of the greatest rascas outside of the walls of a penitentiary, who plundered and defrauded without stint. Unfortunately for General Howard, he was responsible for their appointments and peculations. It was equally unlucky for him that his associations have been with certain gentlemen whose use of the cloak of religion as a shield for sundry violations of the Decalogue has recently been exposed."

The Washington Chronicle says:--. "The President will, on Monday, send to the Senate the name of Robert W. Hughes, late caudidate for Governor of Virginia, for the position of Judge of the District Court of Virginia, made vacant by the death of Judge Underwood."

James Lyons has been appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, as successor to Mr. Wells to the office of United States District Attorney for the Eastern district of Virginia.

John C. Connor, of the 2d District of Texas, died in Washington, yesterday. He entered the Federal army in 1862 as a lieutenant, and served until the close of the war. He was then made captain in the 41st infantry, regular army, and while on duty in Texas was elected by the Democrats to the forty-first Congress and reelected to the forty second.

President MacMahon is to decide to-day whether he will extend clemency to Marshal Buzaine or allow the execution of the sentence of death. The condemned soldier has refused to avail himself of the right of appeal.

It is believed that the death of Professor Agassiz is near, or that if he lives it will be as the mere wreck of his former self, his mind shattered and his brain stricken.

Secretary Belknap, Secretary of War, was married on the 11th inst., in Harrodsburg, Ky, to Mrs. Amanda J. Bowers, youngest daughter of the late Dr. J. A. Tomlinson.

The News from Cuba.

There has been some mystification in regard to the delivery of the Virginius and the surrender of the survivors occasioned by the reports which were telegraphed from Washington on Weinesday night and which are corrected by the special dispatches. The Canandaigua did not sail from New York, for the was not to receive the surrender of the Virginius on the 16th (Tuesday next,) for the equally good reason that she must report to Admiral of the U. S. outside of the port of Havana, un- Monday. less, indeed, the "patriotism" of the Spanish party in Cuba should prompt the mob of Volunteers at Havana to make some demonstration against the departure of the vessel. Captain General Jovellar issued an address imploring the nominal subjects of Spain to consent to to the terms which have been agreed upon between the Madrid Goveroment and that of the United States, and warning them that if they do not they will incur the danger of fighting alone in a war against what he is pleased to designate a powerful enemy. Northwithstanding this appeal and warning, the organs of the Volunteers in Havana have plucked up a truculent tone again, and call for an increase of military strength to take the field against the rebellion in the island, with vague hints that perhaps it may be needed to meet another foe. Notwithstanding the improved situation, it is by no means an assured fact that the Virginius will make a peaceable departure from the barbor of Havana. - Bult.

CIVIL RIGHTS CONVENTION .- In the colored civil rights convention in Washington yesterday the proceedings were unimportant and uninteresting. A further discussion on the resolution offered the evening before asking Congress to pass a civil rights bill occupied the entire session. Melord, of Richmond, Va., made a fierce speech, in which he attacked colored barbers in Washington for cowardice in refusing to shave colored men. He argued that if the barbers began to shave colored persons in a little while the feeling of their white customers would pass away, and all would be treated alike. His particular regret was, however, that when he went into bar rooms in Washington presided over by colored and white, for the purpose of getting a drink, he was informed they "had no liquor," "had just got out," &c.

Clark, of Ohio, submitted a resolution asking Congress to pass an equal rights bill, and addressed the convention. He wanted open trade unions, schools, churches, cemetries, public conveyances, and all other rights that white citizens desired.

During the morning session Pinchback, (President of the convention) who ordered G. T. Downing, of Rhode Island, the first vicepresident of the convention, and others off the platform during the excited session of the previous evening, charging that there was a conspiracy formed to defeat the objects of the convention, and he did not want any one about him, called Downing to the chair. He at first refused,

NEWS OF THE DAY

"To show the very age and body of the Times."

A horrible story of outrage has been made public in the town of Warren, twelve miles from Detroit. A year and a half ago one Chas. Louis Alton was employed to teach in a school at Warren, and also to act as sexton of the church. During this period Alton outraged the person of no less than eighteen school girls, none of whom were over fourteen years old. It appears that the crimes were all committed in the church which adjoins the school-house, and that the fiend succeeded in terrifying his victims into silence for over a year. Alton es-

Among the recent deaths of well-known citizens of the country may be mentioned that of Charles Macalester, esq., of Philadelphia, who died at his home in that city on the 9th. He was seventy five years of age, and had for forty-five years been engaged largely in business enterprises. He was the devoted friend and adviser of the late Geo. Peabody, and was the trustee of the Peabody fund for the advancement of education in the Southern States.

The case of Patterson, charged with using money in his election to the Legislature of South Carolina, on the oath of W. B. Jones. member of the House from Aiken county, was heard yesterday. The evidence of a large number of witnesses proved that the object was to extort money, and Patterson was discharged, and the Judge immediately issued a warrant for the arrest of Jones for perjury.

A bitter controversy is in prospect between the officers of the Ville du Havre and the Loch Earn in regard to the cowardice and incompetency which is alleged by the latter against the former. Captain Surmont has published in Paris a card of indiguant denial in reply to the statements of the English captain.

The formal opening of the Western Maryland Railroad to Williamsport is announced to take place on Wednesday, the 17th instant, and in celebration of the event an excursion over the line of the road will be made. The necessary preliminaries have all been arranged and cards of invitation issued.

Gen. Alfred Dockery, the leading citizen of Richmond county, N. C., and a well known politician of the State, died at his residence on Wednesday last, aged seventy-six. He was a man of strong natural powers.

The principal event in financial affairs yesterday was the reduction of the Bank of England discount rate to 42 per cent., which, however, produced little effect on this side, as such action was generally anticipated.

Canon Kingsley is to be the next Englishman to come to the U. S. on a visit. Like his many predecessors, he will make his expenses, and perhaps something over, by lecturing.

Among the confirmations by the Senate yesterday was that of ex-Congressman Bingham, of Ohio, as Minister to Japan.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Under the head of a "Drunken Judge," the Salem Register and Lynchburg Republican demand the impeachment of Judge Mahood, of the Roanoke circuit, for drunkenness.

Andrew Croxton, the colored boy under sentence of death at Tappahannock, died in jail at that place last Sunday night.

Fourteen prisoners made an unsuccessful attempt to escape from the Petersburg jail on Civil Rights Convention, which is in session Monday night.

Mr. George W. Eve has re-established his business again in Fredericksburg. Congress. - In the Senate, yesterday, after the election of Mr. Carpenter as President pro tem, as already mentioned, Mr. Howe introduced a bill for the appointment of a Commission to examine the entire question of the liquor traffic in its moral, social and political aspects, in connection with pauperism, crime, social vice and the public health, and to make a report to the President, by whom it is to be transmitted to Congress. The bill was referred to the Finance Committee. The Transportation Committee obtained permission to continue in session during the Christmas recess, when the members will pursue their investigations by means of a trip through the South to New Orleans. Resolutions were introduced asking for information of the saving to the Governvery good reason that she was not there; she ment by the abolition of the franking privilege, and of the salaries paid Senators since the foundation of the Government up to the present time. Mr. Summer spoke against inflation Scott at Key West before going to Havana, and in favor of the resumption of specie payand the time for the restoration of the captured | ments, and his bill was referred to the Comship does not expire until Thursday. On that discussion day it seems to be a settled fact that the Viron the Sherman bill to authorize national banks ginius will be handed over to the custody of of deposit only, the Senate adjourned until

In the House of Representatives the Committee on Elections was directed to report on the best method of electing President and Vice-President, and providing a tribunal to settle contested questions. Mr. Creswell was called on for information as to the number of employees that would be required for the postal telegraph and savings banks. The salary bill was then taken up, and Mr. Alexander H. Stephens made his first speech since his re appearance in the House. He took the very strongest ground in favor of the back pay grab and the increased compensation, and defended his position with the argument that the Government must pay as high as any one else for the services of intelligent and experienced men. He desired salaries to range from $10,000 for Congressmen to $100.000 for the President, and urged the re-enactment of the franking privilege. The remainder of the debate was quite spicy, but no action was taken.

GEN. SHERMAN. - A dispatch from Norfolk Va., to the New York Herald says that General Sherman's indorsement of N. B. Forrst, has done more to heal up the old wound than all the peace proclamations for a hundred years. The writer says: "The news was received in Norfolk as a guarantee of that faith which has been promised. General Sherman knew Forrest well, and the latter's offer to the government shows that although he was among the most active in fighting the old flag, he is now among the first to take up the sabre in its defense. Ten thousand recruits in this section are gained by General Sherman's generous recognition of Forrest's patriotism.

THE DISTRICT ATTORNEYSHIP. - The Richmond State Journal says that the momination by the President and prompt confirmation by the Senate of Mr. James Lyons, for the position of District Attorney of the United States for the Eastern District of Virginia, will be accepted by the people of the state as an evidence on the part of the Administration to consult the wishes of the people more generally in regard to federal appointments than has heretofore been the case since the close of the war.

DEATHS FROM YELLOW FEVER.-The ages of 585 persons who died in Shreveport, La., of yellow fever during the recent epidemic have been ascertained. The Shreveport Telegram makes the following reference to them: "Of these 100 died under ten years of age, 94 were many times the cheapest article that can be emstating that he felt that he was in the contempt between ten and twenty, 156 were between ployed. To say nothing about its great superior that the contempt between ten and twenty, 156 were between ployed. of the convention, but afterwards, upon being told by Pinchback that he was now satisfied that he (Downing) was not in the conspiracy that he (Downing) was not in the conspiracy between fifty and sixty, 13 were above sixty. form.

Letter from Hamilton.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.] HAMILTON, LOUDOUN Co. VA., Dec. 11th, 1873.—The meeting at Purcellville yesterday was not largely attended. Col. R. J. T. White presided. Mr. McKenzie made a few remarks, stating the object of the meeting, and showing the condition of the road financially, also, giving the reason why the investments in bonds of the road were reliable and paying. He called attention to the losses recently sustained by parties in the county, from investments in foreign securities, and as an honest man, with honest motives, asked the citizens of the neighborhood to subscribe liberally to the bonds, to aid in laying the track to Purcellville. Henry Heaton, esq., made a short and sensible speech, endorsing the remarks of Mr. McKenzie, and calling upon the people to make a united effort to raise the lunds necessary for the attainment of the object in view. For the purpose of securing concert of action, he proposed the appointment of a committee to solict subscriptions to the bonds of the road. The proposition was adopted and a suitable committee selected composed of live men interested in the work. After the meeting was through with the business before it, a gentleman present-a member of the committee offered to head a list of ten to furnish the money necessary to procure iron for the road to Purcellville. This was a liberal proposition and was made by the only man of the committee, not specially benefitted by the extension, as he is nearer Hamilton depot than any other point on the road. Although the proposal was not accepted by any one present we have no doubt it will bear fouit and be a good case in the hands of the committee, as the gentleman stands high in the community as a financier, and though a liberal man and always ready to aid everything of general interest yet always makes safe investments. The meeting adjourned about four o'clock, Mr. McKenzie, Mr. Heaton and Mr. Eveleth, going to Woodgrove, from whence they go to Snickersville this morning.

PRESIDENT GRANT'S VIEWS. -Yesterday the Louisiana delegation to the National Colored here, visited President Grant in a body, and were introduced by Senator West. In presenting the delegation the Senator remarked that its members embraced many of the intelligent working Republicans in the State. He then introduced James Lewis, who proceeded to address the President, and said the delegation came to pay their respects and thank him on behalf of the colored people of Louisians for the protection they have received from him since his Presidential term commenced. He hoped that he might long eujoy the blessing of good health, and that the colored men might continue to receive his kind consideration and

The President responded by saying that he was glad to meet them. He had always endeavored to secure for the colored men all the rights which should accompany enfranchisement. Certain rights are still withheld, but he hoped that ere long they would find them-selves in possession of all the privilges which belong to freemen. He said he did not know what Congress would do in the matter, but he thought it likely that that body would, at its present session, pass a civil rights bill, and that if such a bill is defeated it will probably be because an extreme measure is urged by some person who claims to be a particular friend of the colored man.

The members of the delegation were then introduced individually by Senator West. After a cordial handshaking the delegation retired, apparently well pleased with their interview .- Washington Republican.

THE DISTRICT LEGISLATURE. - Perhaps the delegates and ex-delegates of the District Legislature who are agitating for a change of the organic act so as to make the Council and Board of Public Works elective may set the wheels in motion the other way, and cause Congress to come to the conclusion to do away with the Legislature altogether. The taxpayers and business men, we suspect, would prefer to trust their interest entirely to the keeping of the National Government through officers appointed by the Executive. - Wash.

RICE IN MARYLAND .- A farmer of Wicomico county, Md., reports that from one quart of rice planted in deep, black soil, he raised twenty four quarts, weighing twenty-eight pounds. It was planted about the middle of April, in rows eighteen inches apart, and cut October 27. Single grains produced from five to twenty-five stalks, from three and a half to five feet high.

COMMUNICATED. THE APPROACHES TO TOWN. - It is a wellknown fact that we are losing, daily, the trade of the surrounding country on account of the bad condition of the roads leading into our city. It is a matter that should receive the earnest attention of our dealers. Many persons would purchase here if access was as easy as to Washington. The great trouble is Hooff's Run, and if that nuisance was abated-made passablemany more dollars would be expended here than are now. I hope the authorities, let it be Fairfax or Alexandria, will be required to put it in condition to travel. If they do not, let us see what the Grand Jury can do.

How to Live Economically.

The problem of how to economize in living is one that engages the serious attention of a great many people. "Many a little makes a mickle" was one of Benjamin Franklin's "Poor Richard" truisms that summarizes the whole system of popular extravagance. If you wish to save money, economize in little as well as in large items of expenditure. For all the household purposes for which polishing powders, Bath brick and soap are usually used, excepting the one thing of washing clothes. Sapolio is by
